Product description

Housey, set on a hill, invites children to explore and develop essential skills. Two balance step paths provide access: a shorter route to a platform with steps and a longer path with a rope railing leading to the entrance.

Inside, Housey offers a cozy space for play, social interaction, and quiet moments. The design encourages climbing, balancing, sliding, and exploring, helping children build motor skills, spatial awareness, and confidence. Its open structure fosters social connections and cooperative play.
